CONSTRUCTION ROADWAY FOR DAM

US Army Corps of Engineers - Conemaugh Dam Project

Road to Yesterday

The clearing that makes up the portion of the trail you just walked was a roadway used during the construction of the dam. The road led from the existing entrance road to the construction office that was located at the other end of the clearing. Let your imagination take over for a minute, and try to imagine the hustle and bustle of the men and machinery as they began blocking the free flowing Conemaugh River.
